THE GRAND KNIGHT

Dear Brother Knights,

I Hope all of you are doing well, staying strong in your Catholic faith, and praying always especially during the Lenten season. As we all know, Lent is the time to reexamine ourselves and see where we need to grow in our spiritual journey.

Thanks to all the brother knights who continue to help in making our council's events successful. I honestly appreciate all the knights and their families who have gone out of their way to make our council meet its fraternal obligations. As knights, we strive to live in accordance with the precepts of the Catholic Church in addition to our fraternal principles. Let us continue to work together and serve the needs of others.

This month, we will continue with our Fish Fry, through Friday March 22, 2024. We are also selling raffle tickets for the Hyatt Vacation Resort Club located in Escondido, California. All these will help raise funds for our council. Please consider getting at least two raffle ticket booklets to sell. Remember that we will need everyone's help. It would be highly appreciated if you can sign-up for two or more shifts.

Remain blessed.

COUNCIL CHAPLAIN'S Corner

For God So Loved the World

John 3:16 "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whoever believeth in Him shall not perish but have everlasting life."

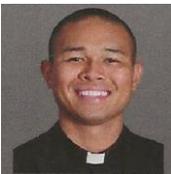

Dr. Alfred Barney Smith was a song writer. Born November 8 1916. In his lifetime he wrote over 500 Christian songs. In 1938 he had the opportunity to hear several evangelists of the time tell their stories about how they felt music drew souls to the Cross. They talked about how those songs were written, and the stories behind them. That afternoon he dedicated his life to the ministry of music. His education included Juillaird School of music, Moody Bible Institute and Wheaton College.

A short story about how one of his songs was written. He was traveling home from a class one day and began to have this song humming around in his head but was stumped on the last line. When he arrived home he got on his piano and inserted the line "Wonderful His love to me" and a song was born. To this day one of the all-time favorites of many.

For God so loved the world He gave His only Son
To die on Calvary from sin to set me free
One day He's coming back
What glory that will be
Wonderful His love to me

Happy Easter Everyone

FINANCIAL SECRETARY

Dear Brother Knights,

Our third Lenten Fish Fry just concluded on March 1st. Dinners this year include fish & chips, cole slaw, cookies and a drink. I hope to see you all there the next 3 Fridays in March, either working behind the scenes or treating your family and friends to dinner.

In addition to the fish dinners, we will be having a Vacation Raffle for 3 nights at Hyatt Vacation Club, Escondido, for check-in on Sunday May 19^h, and check-out on May 22nd. Ticket prices are only $5 per ticket, or 5 for $20. If you didn't pick up some tickets at our last member's meeting, they will be mailed to you. If you need additional tickets, please contact Rob Johnson at (310) 962-2838. Tickets and money can be returned at any of the remaining fish fry's or mailed no later than March 15th to be assured they will be added to the hopper.

Does anybody want a Knight's jacket or shirts? Please check out our Bulletin advertisers on the back cover of our Council Newsletter. ALBA Professional Embroidery is the place to get them. Call Luci Alba or drop by her store in Huntington Beach, right off Gothard St & Edinger Ave.

If you haven't met with our Insurance Field Agent, Mark McEniry, please give him a call to find out all the benefits you have available through the Knights. He has been a Field Agent with the nights for the past 14 years and will be retiring this year. If you have joined our Council within the past couple years, or haven't spoken to Mark recently, you likely have benefits you don't know about. Please give Mark a call at (562) 493-3394. Email: Mark.Mceniry@kofc.org

Please join us at the next Members Meeting on Wednesday March 13th, beginning at 6:30 in the Parish Hall.

From Your Council.....Chancellor

My Dear Brothers,

As some of you know, I have been away for a few weeks due to some really very minor surgery that I had been putting off for a very long time. The recovery has been more than I expected and has given me an opportunity to slow down, to accept help and to be humbled in what I can and can't do. It has also given my family more of an opportunity to serve me in a corporal way.

It has also given me more time to pray and I have tried not to waste all of that extra time. I love the moments when I can sit quietly in the presence of Christ and pray. For that extra time and for the healing, I give thanks to God. I pray in the morning for those in the world who have passed away overnight and for the souls in purgatory. I pray for our Pope, Bishops and Priests and for my Brother Knights and your needs and intentions.

Our lives move in seasons. At the moment, I am not in a Season where I can help my brothers physically. But by the grace of God, when I am in better health I will be able to continue to serve with my Brothers and be the hands and feet of Christ to our Parish and community.

I encourage you to always keep in mind that when the seasons change and when you find yourself able to serve that you know that your Brother Knights are here and look forward to seeing you. Don't let absence keep you from returning.

To my Brother Knights serving Shrove Tuesday, Fish Fry and the Lenten Mission refreshments, your work and sacrifice of time does not go unnoticed and unappreciated. Thank you! May God richly bless you and re-ignite

Vivat Jesus!

Pro-Life Information

February brought a special speaker from the Life Center “Walking with Moms”, Megan Morris. She spoke at three masses and after words met parishioners outside. We are blessed to have her and an integral part of the Pro-Life ministry.

The Knights are supporting four Pro-Life centers this month and continue to support the efforts of various Pro-Life activities.

We all pray that Life will be respected from birth to natural death.

GLENDALE WINTER WONDERLAND

By Frank Faecke

Nearby was a glass-enclosed replica in miniature of an American West town complete with wooden buildings, animals, and small human figures. The next treat was a bench on which one or two could sit next to an enormous photograph of a Moab arch. A green screen behind the bench allowed the occupant(s) to appear in a series of hair-raising adventures and wild rides, such as a runaway stagecoach, canoe bouncing up and down in rapids, or being part of stampeding buffalo. I tried it first. I could see myself projected in the rides as I flapped my arms and enjoyed the journey. I was rewarded with my photograph on one of the rides. Of course, Renee and Julie sat on the bench for the same thrill rides, as Andrew stood bravely beside them!

There weren't nearly as many of the Gene Autry collected memorabilia exhibited. I remembered Autry had one of the most extensive Western collections from different movies and fellow actors over the years. I did photograph Andrew in front of Gene Autry's glass-covered exhibit with his outfits, guns, and pictures from his numerous family friendly movies.

Another room held "Art of the West." It had many pieces from New Mexico, such as a life-size carving of a very thin Jesus on a wooden cross, a painting of Jesus on a cross with indigenous men below it, some wearing masks. Clear glass protected a totem pole fashioned from thirty or so neatly folded Native American blankets which were stacked on a heavy wood base. There were also carved Santos (saints). (My dad learned how to carve them from Delfin Romero, a retired carpenter from the Zia Company, during the years my folks lived in New Mexico.) A magnificent replica of Our Lady of Guadalupe hung on the wall with St. Juan Diego and others below her

There were several Indigenous protest photographs and stories in another area that presented what they suffered. A map of California listed every Indigenous tribe and its location. I did wonder how balanced the exhibit was, because I couldn't find a positive story about St. Junipero Serra. One that stands out told of Fr. Serra walking hundreds of miles on an injured leg to present a bill of rights for Native Americans to his archbishop in Mexico City to protest their cruel treatment by Spanish soldiers. Also, there was no mention of his forgiveness of rebellious Indians who attacked one of his missions and brutally killed the priest! A true story tells the whole story.

Another room contained the history of Sherman Indian School, where Indigenous youth were "civilized" and removed from their culture. Photographs showed different classes with their activities, such as their powerful and successful football team!

A developing exhibit on the history of Griffith Park invited public input on the lands, the trails, and the many people involved. A touching display near there profiled Bass Reeves (1838-1910.) He “was the first African American commissioned to serve as a deputy U.S. Marshal west of the Mississippi River. Born enslaved in Crawford County, Arkansas, he was moved to Texas by his enslaver, Colonel George R. Reeves, who later forced him into the Confederate Army.” When freed after the Civil War, Bass fled into Indigenous territory occupied by Cherokee, Creek, and Seminole tribes and learned their languages. After all slavery was abolished, he and his family tried farming in Arkansas. In 1875 he was recruited as the first African American marshal due to his knowledge of Indigenous people. For 30 years as a lawman Bass Reeves “was widely known as an expert rider, marksman, and master of homemade disguises, and is thought to have brought more than 3,000 criminals to justice.” The 2022 film The Harder They Fall portrayed him, and he may have been the inspiration of the fictional hero the Lone Ranger!

A nearby exhibit had the guns and stories of outlaw John Wesley Hardin, Sheriff John Selman, and law Officer George Scarborough. Another exhibit had the long pistol of Wyatt Earp, as well as a photograph of him and his contemporaries. Many other guns and their stories were on display.

After a stroll through the Ethnobotanical Garden, complete with waterfall, we climbed up stairs to the main level and exited the Autry Museum. Renee drove us to Underwood Family Farms, Somis and Moorpark, California where we arrived at 3:02 pm and met Bill and family.

When paying our entrance fee, I picked up a brochure. It told me, “In 1867 the Underwood family began farming the fertile valleys of Ventura County, California. From field to market, Underwood has always placed an emphasis on quality and flavor that maintain and replenish the soil. The family’s staunch efforts in increasing the use of compost and biological material allow them to minimize use of commerci
